Gaurav Chauhan

Public Health Professional

Delhi, India

Summary

With over a decade of dedicated experience in public health project management, my journey has evolved from being a consultant for MCH, nutrition and immunization programs at NHM to managing projects in different States, followed by policy & planning role at Ministry of Health and Family Welfare (MoHFW), India to my current strategic role as Senior Program Officer at Jhpiego.

Technical skills & experience in Public Health Policy & Planning, Health Systems Strengthening, Project/Program Management, Data Analysis and Interpretation, Technical capacity on diverse programs like- RMNCHA, Quality at primary care, Nutrition, NCD, WASH, infection prevention etc. has also honed my program/thematic leadership skills where I have proven my ability to support/lead large-scale initiatives and work collaboratively with multidisciplinary teams, coordinating multi-stakeholder projects, designing and implementing M&E frameworks and continuous quality improvement.

Technical abilities in PM (JIRA, Asana, MS Project), analytical tools (SPSS, Excel, HMIS, etc.), digital platforms and presentation & documentation skills bring quality to the overall project management processes.

My ability to contribute to diverse projects could also be attributed to-

- a) interpersonal skills which eases the stakeholder engagements (including high level decision makers, policymakers, healthcare providers, program leaders, etc.)
- b) Soft skills in advocacy and communication to promote program initiatives and policies
- c) collaboration and teamwork in diverse settings while fostering a positive working environment.

Personal attributes of-

- a) Result-Oriented: Focus on achieving measurable outcomes.
- b) Adaptability and Resilience: Ability to adapt to changing environments and handle challenges effectively
- and c) Ethical Practice: Commitment to ethical standards and practices has been pivotal to striving higher in personal and professional life.

The values of integrity, collaboration, and innovation are central to my professional ethos, I continue to leverage these principles to foster significant advancements in the public-health sector.
